

Please do not weaken Wisconsin's popular consumer protection program - the No Call List. Families are barraged by telemarketing calls during dinner and when helping the children with homework, etc. It is very disruptive. If they want to be in business they should be required to find a better way to sell their product. Why should they have the right to call whenever they desire. I view it as an invasion of privacy. Thank you.